

Holy Name Board To Decide Disputed Score On Final Title Game At Meeting

LEM OWENS HURLS TWO-HIT GAME IN DEFEATING OFFICE

Aggies' Hurler Gets Best of Forest Thompson, Setting Mark for Post-Season Series.

TROUBLE AMONG JUNIORS

Holy Name League Has Mix-up Over Close Score in Deciding League Contest.

Grounds Changed

The Section A game between the Machinists and Marines, scheduled for tomorrow afternoon, has been shifted from the N. Y. League grounds to the Terminal Railroad Y. M. C. A. grounds, east of the Union Station. S. Edward Beach, vice president of the A. A. is the authority for the change. The Marines and Machinists fought a tie battle in their first engagement last Saturday.

By BRYAN MORSE.

Lem Owens, star hurler for the Aggies, is proving to be the real luminary of the post-season series so far, and his mark made against the General Office team yesterday in the Section B contest is one of the shining marks of the present title battles. Owens has pitched great ball all season, and yesterday let down the General Office players with two hits, fanning five and walking three.

Forest Thompson, one of the best of the amateur hurlers, was opposed to Owens, and pitched a creditable game. Thompson pitched himself out of several holes, and about earned even honors with Owens, save in the matter of winning. Owens, it will be remembered, came through on Saturday, blanking the Keller team in the final innings of the game after the Aggies had assumed a lead toward the end of the contest.

The score was tied up in the sixth inning yesterday until Captain Bailey came to the bat for the Aggies. With Carroll on second the Aggies' first sacker found Thompson for a triple, which earned a run. Thompson then cut loose with a wild pitch and Bailey scored. Despite the seven errors chalked up on the mark in the contest both teams feld well. The Aggies have had to play five ball to win, and yesterday's 4 to 2 battle was as well played as could be wished.

There will be more conversational baseball tonight when St. Dominic's and St. Aloysius get together with umpire score book, official scorers and players to decide which nine won yesterday's battle. The official scorer maintains that the teams quit the field at the conclusion of the first half of the eighth with the score two all. St. Dominic's claims the battle by a 2 to 1 score. A win for St. Dominic's would cause another battle for the title. A tie up would necessitate another game to be played between the two teams. The board of governors of the league will hear all sides of the dispute tonight at Knights of Columbus Hall, in E street northwest.

Machinists fell upon Eddie Thompson yesterday and hammered out a 9 to 3 victory in the section A game. Thompson was touched up for eleven safeties and was backed by miserable support. The Machinists had eleven men left on the bases or the score would have been larger. "Lefty" Kuhnert proved effective for Machinists, holding the Sunday School League champions to six hits. Eight bases were stolen on "Doc" Poleman, the Immanuel catcher, while Giovannetti checked the Immanuel players throughout the battle.

The Machinists play the Rosedale nine today on the Potomac League grounds, the Marines meet Immanuel at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. grounds. In the other Section A game, while Keller and General Office took up in the Section B game, at the Patterson tract.

Rosedale was no match for the stronger Marines in the other section A battle, but gamely stuck through the contest, dropping a 7 to 1 game in six innings. Burns and Goodwin served them up for the Marines and allowed five hits between them. Fitzgerald, for Rosedale, distinguished himself by knocking out two triples.

Section standings in the post-season games are as follows:

Standing of Clubs.
SECTION A.
Team.	G.	W.	L.	Pct.	Today.
Machinists	2	1	0	1.000	1,600
Marines	2	1	0	1.000	1,600
Immanuel	2	1	1	.500	687
Rosedale	2	0	2	.000	333

There were six triples in the Rosedale-Machinists game of yesterday. Kuhnert proved effective for Machinists, holding the Sunday School League champions to six hits. Eight bases were stolen on "Doc" Poleman, the Immanuel catcher, while Giovannetti checked the Immanuel players throughout the battle.

Beall, of Rosedale, pinch hitting for Connors, came through with a single which scored Rosedale's only run. A single through the box, with Claude on, got the single tally.

The Walter Reed Athletic Club won their fifteenth straight victory Sunday by defeating the Braddock Athletic Club in a fast and snappy game by 6 to 5.

Ganzei Resigns.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 17.—Manager John Ganzel, of the local International League baseball team, resigned today. Ganzel has been manager of the hurlers since 1911 and his retirement was totally unexpected.

Varied Sensations Experienced While Watching Bulletin Board

New Brand of Baseball Bug Is Revealed With Half Sun-burned Features.

By KIRK C. MILLER.

It was a day of thrills, shivers, and tin-tinabulations with a few creaks thrown in, was August 16, for the precocious pursuers of the pennant problem which becomes more hectic each twenty-four hours. An afternoon in the rhone added dentist's chair could hardly prevent an equal nervous strain for the bus who stands before the bulletin board, exposing half of his face only to the descending sun and permitting his neck to become so stiffened that his co-workers accuse him of being haughty when he crawls into work the next a. m. Whenever you see a block with one side of his face looking like he had been under his "mote" all night and the other as blanched as the face of a peroxide demonstrator, you may make sure he is one of the motley throng who takes his annual leave three hours at a time to stand around the baseball bulletin board as the sun sinks behind the western horizon, etc.

When the pace setters in two leagues win their games by hair-breadth margins, to say nothing of miraculous maltreating of the enemy during the eleventh hour, the faithful moon is likely to rise over Anacostia Heights and find these same boobies still standing with their eyes upturned to the magnetic bulletin board from which there is no escape from the faithful fan who has followed the teams down the course since April 14. He has as much chance of getting a warm supper as he has of getting a warm welcome when he finally summons sufficient courage to meander home when no other door is opened to him. He loves the bulletin board, the western horison, and its mysteries entrance him.

There are two reasons for his tardiness last night or this morning, when ever the spirit of the game has to go home; namely, the Phillies and Red Sox, two dastardly teams of baseball actors who have championship aspirations. Both of these corporations are leading their respective and respected leagues and both won their games yesterday. Those Red Sox used Washington's own aggregation of performers for winning bait and who could have left the bulletin board until the job was complete, signed, sealed, and delivered.

Two Horses Crowned Kings of Harness World

CLEVELAND, Aug. 17.—Lee Axworthy and William were crowned, respectively, trotting and pacing kings yesterday, following two of the most sensational match races witnessed by the horse world in years at the North Randall track.

Lee Axworthy battled three heats before defeating Peter Volo, while William won his race with Directum I in two straight heats. World's records took the count as a result of the afternoon's exhibition.

In the first heat of the Axworthy-Volo contest the latter trotted the mile in 2:02, tying the world's stallion mark held by The Harvester and creating a new record for a four-year-old stallion. In the next two heats Axworthy won in 2:03 1/4 and 2:04 1/4, making an average time for a three-heat race 2:03 1/4, a new world's record.

Williams, in the first heat of the race, went around in 1:58 1/4, a new world's record for a five-year-old pacing stallion. His second heat in 2:00 was another world's stallion record, and his combined average time of 1:59 1/4 is a world's mark for a five-year-old pacer. Williams also set the local track record of 2:01 1/4 and paced the fastest heat of 1915.

Evers Is Resting.

Manager Stallings, of the Boston Braves, has sent Capt. Johnny Evers to Albany for a few days' rest. He will rejoin the Braves in Boston tomorrow to take part in the opening of the club's new baseball park. Evers, who is of a nervous temperament, was greatly depressed over the way the Pittsburgh powers would after him during the club's stay in that city.

Patrick Moran's Phillies required just one hour and fifty-seven minutes to completely squelch the world's champion Braves by 5 to 0, thus refusing to be shaken from their exalted perch in the National League standing. There were the regular eight innings, but no pipe organ recital the meanwhile, and delivered.

Races in Two Leagues So Fascinating That Fan Simply Can't Get Home.

Phil Douglas, a youngster secured from the Reds threatened to beat Teague, but his support insisted on spoiling some run-getting opportunities. The score was 2 to 1, the Giants having got one run in the ninth and tenth each.

While the Red Sox were embarrassing Griffith, the Tigers were amassing two victories, much to the chagrin of the Indians. The statistics read, 6 to 2 and 8 to 1. Meanwhile, the White Sox were trimming the Browns twice, 8 to 4 and 5 to 1, so that American League struggle became more intense as the second and third teams gained a game on the No. 1 Red Sox.

The real cream of the league was spilled, though, when the 1915 Model Mackmen turned on the Yankees for a 2 to 0 shut-out. The Mackmen, thought to be entirely through as far as the Polo Grounds is concerned, used young Mister Ruben Brasser against Slim Caldwell. The sturdy southpaw must have been inspired by the presence of his old master, Eddie Plank, in the grand stand, for he used all of the port-siding cussedness in that left appendage, and he deserved the victory which was his.

ALVA RICHARDS IS BEST IN COUNTRY

Victory in Decathlon Event at the American Championship Games Wins Honor.

Alva N. Richards of the Illinois Athletic Club is today the greatest all-around athlete in the United States by virtue of his victory in the decathlon event at the American championship games at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. Richards ran up a total of 6,858.51 points while his nearest competitor, C. A. Brundage of Chicago Athletic Association totaled 6,643.4. The race for first place was remarkably close and interesting and it was not until the last event was finished that the ultimate winner was determined.

Hans Kohlemlainen of the Irish-American A. C. of New York, won easily in the modified marathon of fifteen miles. He covered the distance in one hour and twenty-five minutes, and fifty-one seconds. Booth, Blair, Smith and Loomis, composing the team representing Chicago in the international 800-meter relay, won that event by a close margin.
